Kitty's Gonna Be Fine

Kitty's gonna take the subway,
Screeching down the sunburned tracks,
Raiding the sesame bagel fortress,
Freeing the croissants and donuts,
Which will return to serving the sun and moon,
Allowing Kitty to once more regain the Trust of the universe since the Candy
King had betrayed him so many years ago.

And then Kitty's gonna recruit,
A strawberry Frappe to take him
Across the grape Jell-o sea, but
He'll have to face the legendary
Octéclair and swing his delicious
Candy-Cane sword at his devious foe,
To gain access to the King's island,
Surrounded by the great gumdrop wall and
Defended by a multitude of jelly-bean
Catapults that that King will summon,
To wreck Kitty's Frappe, and leave him
Stranded on the wreckage in the midst
Of the King's wicked and colorful assault.

But Kitty's gonna be fine, because the sweet
Swedish Fish will rescue him and carry him safely,
To the other side of the island where he'll say farewell,
And begin traversing through the Licorice forest as the Sky begins to downpour with rainbow sprinkles.

So Kitty's gonna take refuge beneath a Tootsie-Roll log,
And there Kitty'll meet the Gummy Bears tribe and a small Group of M&Ms and Reese's Pieces that were Exiled by the King now that the Cotton Candy Queen
Has been locked up, and it's gonna be fine, because Kitty'll unite them and march toward the Peppermint
Mountain that has its tip slightly bent over like
Icing on the cakes Kitty used to indulge in so long ago.

(Stanza Break)

Then Kitty and his gang are going to trudge up the Peppermint Mountain, pushing their way through the tasty white frosting, Approaching the top where they'll meet the Candy Corn Brigade watching over the King's fortified palace of gumdrop Walls, butterscotch cookie doors, and Truffle guard towers Built with caramel layering and armed with gumballs that sail Up into the sky, crashing like cherry bombs against the mountain's Slick and malleable surface where the Brigade has taken up its defense.

Kitty's gonna lead the charge with the sun and the moon, The bakery delights falling from the sky like comets, the Octéclair and the Swedish Fish, the Gummy Bear tribe, and the M&Ms and The Reese's Pieces, and the Candy Corn Brigade, Because they all know they have to overthrow the false King's reign, And so Kitty's gonna lead them, as they tackle the gum drop walls, Using frozen popsicles to burn through the castle's exterior, Letting them pour into the Castle grounds as the silver Hershey Knights prepare themselves for battle with Kitty's rebellion.

And Kitty's gonna dart through the commotion, aiming For the castle's interior, slashing away at the knights with His Candy-Cane sword until finally he reaches the King's lair, Where the Cotton Candy Queen is frozen in time, surrounded by Clockwork as the King, wearing armor composed of Gears and springs, lunges at Kitty in their final desperate battle.

Kitty's gonna engage in a lengthy battle, fighting Tooth and claw against the tyrant King, weaving in and Out of his attacks while the King defends himself with his Menacing rusty gear shield, occasionally striking out at Kitty With his Cuckoo Clock chain, until finally he corners Kitty Cutting his Candy-Cane sword in two, leaving Kitty vulnerable.

But, Kitty's gonna be fine, because before the King can deal the Final blow, Kitty'll lunge at his back and remove the clockwork Key, causing the King to collapse into a deep sleep, while Kitty Can finally release the Cotton Candy Queen, who will bring about Peace throughout the candy universe, awarding Kitty with a medal in the Shape of a small golden paw and scheduling a celebration on his behalf.

However, by that time, Kitty's already gonna be off on his next journey,

Kitty's gonna take a caravan train out West where the sky is filled with Origami birds and the plains are inhabited by crayon-colored buffalo, Because it is here that Kitty's skills are needed to negotiate the truce

(No Stanza Break)

Between the waffle and pancake villages while he'll also track down
The marmalade bandits that have been robbing the celery trains
And harming the safety of the residents of the popcorn county.

Because, Kitty's already embarked on his next journey,
His first adventure with us has already reached its conclusion,
But we know that Kitty's gonna be fine because,
Kitty's gonna continue living his everlasting dreams.
